HELPFUL HINTS

WHILE YOUR FAMILY STAYS AT HOME

Instead of binge watching

Schedule times your family will watch television news. This way you can get "up to date" information but avoid watching endless streams of stressful news.

Turn off the news when children are present as it can increase their anxiety (and yours!). If they do listen to the news, talk together about what they are hearing to calm their fears and correct any misunderstandings.

Talking about the news is an important way for everyone in the household to process the latest developments and feel more supported and connected. Find the latest government announcements and resources in the green circle above.

Parenting Tips

Take care of yourself first!

- Eat well
- Exercise
- Get plenty of sleep
- Pray or meditate
- Call family and friends
- Take a break
- Enjoy hobbies and leisure

Be open to talking to your children about the virus. Let your child share how they feel, and be honest and supportive.

Everyday, set aside some quality time for each child. Listen, smile, and model calm and peace. Let your children know you love them and believe in them. Praise your children when they are behaving well.

Redirect bad behaviors without displaying anger. When you feel frustrated, practice breathing deeply "in and out 5 times" then help direct your child's behavior toward something more positive.

Ideas for Fun and Relaxation

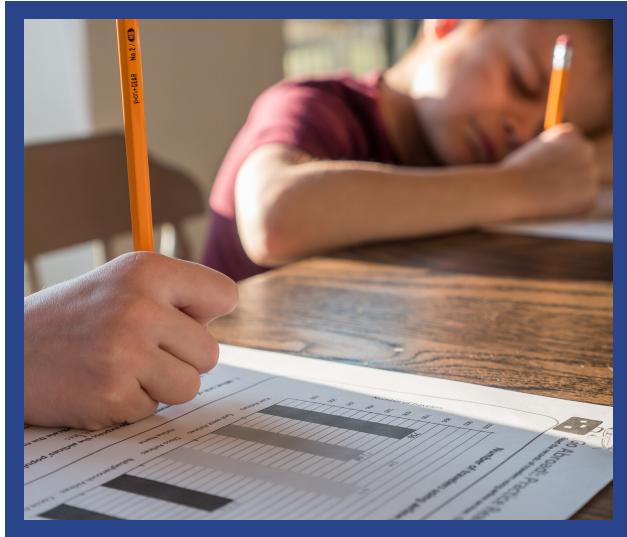

Take a break and engage in a hobby or leisure activity you enjoy. Be curious! Go outside of your comfort zone and try something new!

- Watch a movie
- Go for a walk
- Listen to music & dance
- Play a game
- Call a friend
- Cook as a family
- Keep a journal
- Take a nap
- Write a letter
- Eat a favorite snack
- Pray or meditate

Do virtual meet-ups!

Learning and Working at Home

Contact your child's teacher about educational online and offline activities your children should do if they haven't been providing those details via email. Remember kids learn best when they can take a lot of breaks and move around a lot. Sometimes 20 minutes of learning followed by a 10 minute break is best for younger (and sometimes older) kids!

"Have an aim in life, continuously acquire knowledge, work hard, and have perseverance to realize the great life."

APJ Abdul Kalam

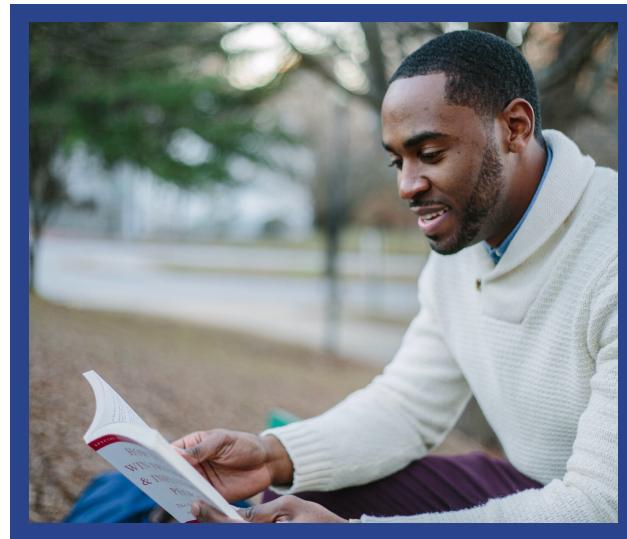

Talk with your kids about what their daily structure will be during this time. As a family, create a daily schedule around what works best for everyone and then hang it where everyone can see it. Develop a routine where everyone goes to bed and wakes up at a normal time. List the times for meals, learning, work, exercise, breaks, fun activities and leisure. Let your teens and young adult children create their own with feedback and insight from you. Help to maintain a sense of peace.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF FIRST

Be intentional to care for yourself. Reflect on what works for you then make a simple plan. When you go off course, remember that happens to everyone! Just keep returning to your plan, reflect, and make adjustments.

- Eat well
- Exercise
- Take regular walks
- Get extra sleep
- Pray or meditate
- Call family & friends to stay connected
- Take up a hobby
- Finish a project

"Faith is taking the first step even when you don't see the whole staircase."

MAKE CARING FOR OTHERS

PART OF YOUR DAILY LIFE

Practice being kind, thoughtful, and generous to the people you care about. Spend time helping others develop a greater sense of belonging. Make this a time of deeper reflection and intentionally grow deeper relationships by asking questions, listening intently, and sharing honestly with others you care about. Find some good conversation topics below.

Conversation Topics

- What are some of the things/people in your life you are most grateful for?
- Who was your first "crush"?
- What three habits will improve your life?
- If you could have lunch with one person, who would it be?
- What really makes you angry?
- What or who influenced you to choose your career?
- What does a successful relationship look like to you?
- What was your upbringing like?
- What goals do you have for the next few years?
- When are you happiest?
- What's on your bucket list?

WHAT IF

SOMEONE GETS SICK?

If anyone in your home

If someone starts showing symptoms of COVID-19, call your doctor to discuss what to do. Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure and may include fever, cough, shortness of breath. About half of the people exposed to COVID-19 show no symptoms but are "carriers" who can transmit the virus and cause others to get ill. People who are over age 60 are at higher risk of severe illness with COVID-19.

Follow Guidelines to Prevent Illness

The most basic and powerful way to connect to another person is to listen. Just listen.
Rachel Naomi Remen

Stay connected with family and friends by phone, texting, social media or video chats and, if you need to visit, maintain social distancing at all times. Take proper precautions and follow all government restrictions.

Follow These Guidelines

- Wear a mask when you leave home
- Maintain social distancing
- Follow Stay-At-Home orders
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth
- Stay home when you are sick and call your health care provider for instructions
- Wash your hands!
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects
